INTRODUCTION

Let's Learn Japanese is a television course for those who wish to learn the fundamentals of the Japanese language. Each lesson is thirty minutes long and is based on the material from the series Yan and the Japanese People. The use of video materials featuring the experiences of a young foreign man who has just arrived in Tokyo, makes the task of language learning more enjoyable and ensures also that viewers will pick up a great deal of information about contemporary Japanese life.

Let's Learn Japanese (Basic I) consists of twenty-six lessons, one of which will be telecast each time. In addition to the skits about Yan, the lessons include shorter “mini-skits” which show how the expressions being studied are used in a variety of situations, helping to make their meaning clearer.

About This Textbook

This textbook has been compiled to complement the television lessons; studying it before and after watching the program should help viewers master the material more efficiently. There are three volumes:

Volume 1	Lessons 1–8
Volume 2	Lessons 9–16
Volume 3	Lessons 17–26

The Structure and Content of Each Volume of the Textbook

(1) First, a synopsis and a complete transcription of the skits are provided. Since it takes two lessons to cover one skit, Vol. 1, for example, contains the summaries and transcripts of the first four skits.

The synopses will be useful for those who want to make certain they have grasped the general outline of the skit, but the transcriptions should be considered as useful reference material. For those who wish to see in what context a certain expression appeared, or who wish to pursue the key points in greater detail than is allowed by the thirty-minute television format.

(2) The structure of each lesson is explained on the next page.

(3) In the appendix at the back of the text are lists giving the names of the days of the week, the names of the months, dates, methods of counting, and other useful information.

(4) Finally, there is an alphabetized index containing all the vocabulary items found in the “Words and Phrases to Memorize” section of each lesson.

The Arrangement of Individual Lessons

Today's Expressions

Here you will find the most important of the expressions to be learned in the lesson. Take a look at this section before watching the television program and find out what you are supposed to learn that day. The program and the exercises are built around these expressions.

Today's Lesson

There are three parts to this section:

- (1) Skits: Here you will find transcriptions of some parts of the skit about Yan, or of mini-skits, together with an English version. These skits all contain one or more of the expressions from "Today's Expressions."
- (2) Words & Phrases: After the transcription of each skit, you will find a vocabulary list explaining the words and phrases that appeared in it.
- (3) Notes: Here you will find explanations about how to use some of the expressions in the skit. Most of the explanations deal with the expressions found in "Today's Expressions."

Exercises

The purpose of the exercises is to determine how well you have grasped the material of each lesson. (The answers are given at the end of each lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

In the first three lessons, this section offers a brief introduction to Japanese sounds and writing. From Lesson 4 on, hiragana letters and their pronunciation are taken up a few at a time.

Culture & Life

This section contains explanations about some areas of Japanese life and culture that may be puzzling, especially to people who have never been to Japan.

Words & Phrases to Memorize

Here you will find a list of the most important vocabulary items in the lesson. Most of them appear frequently in later lessons, so be sure to learn them well.

Answers & Comments

In this section you will find the answers to the exercises, as well as comments about important or unusually difficult points.

► Synopsis

Morning at the Katôs'. A voiceover narration introduces their daily routine. They have breakfast at 7:00. Mr. Katô commutes by train, Midori by bicycle, and Tarô by bus. Mrs. Katô does the laundry and cleaning; the camera speeds up to give us an idea of her hectic morning. After a midday break for a TV soap opera, she goes to the local market for grocery shopping. Midori comes home around 4:00 and helps with dinner preparations. Yan comes to visit. Mr. Katô comes home around 8:00. Yan stays until after 10:00. The Katôs go to bed around 11:00.

Today's Expressions

1. { A: What time is it (now)?
B: It's two-thirty.
2. Mr. Katô gets up at 6:30 every morning.

► MINI-SKIT

Kaihô Anô, ima nan-ji desu ka?

Mine Ni-ji han desu.

Kaihô Dômo arigatô gozaimashita.

Kaihô What time is it?

Mine It's two-thirty.

Kaihô Thank you very much.

WORDS & PHRASES

ima (now) / nan-ji (what time) / ni-ji han (two-thirty) / Dômo arigatô gozaimashita.
(Thank you very much.)

NOTES

① Ima nan-ji desu ka?

This is how to ask what time it is.

② Ni-ji han

The suffix -ji indicates the hour.

Below is a list of various times in Japanese:

1:00	ichi-ji	7:00	shichi-ji*	1:30	ichi-ji han
2:00	ni-ji	8:00	hachi-ji	2:30	ni-ji han
3:00	san-ji	9:00	ku-ji*	3:30	san-ji han
4:00	yo-ji*	10:00	jû-ji	4:30	yo-ji han
5:00	go-ji	11:00	jûichi-ji	7:30	shichi-ji han
6:00	roku-ji	12:00	jûni-ji	9:30	ku-ji han

Counting is explained in Lesson 5, Note ④.

**These numbers (4, 7, and 9) have variant forms, so pay special attention to the form that is used in telling time.*

Here are some examples of other times:

6:05	roku-ji go-fun
6:10	roku-ji juppun*
6:15	roku-ji jûgo-fun
6:20	roku-ji nijuppun*
6:30	roku-ji han
6:45	roku-ji yonjûgo-fun / shichi-ji jûgo-fun mae (15 min. before 7)
6:50	roku-ji gojuppun* / shichi-ji juppun* mae (10 min. before 7)

To talk about minutes, the Japanese use the suffix -fun. Be careful of the examples which are marked with an asterisk, however, because in them the pronunciation of -fun is slightly different.

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN

Narêta Koko wa Katô-san no uchi desu.
 Katô-san no okusan wa maiasa rokuji ni okimasu.
 Katô-san wa maiasa roku-ji han ni okimasu.
 Katô-san wa asa shinbun o yomimasu.

*Narrator This is the Katos' house.
 Mrs. Katô gets up every morning at 6:00.
 Mr. Katô gets up every morning at 6:30.
 He reads the newspaper in the morning.*

WORDS & PHRASES

uchi (house) / Katô-san no okusan (Mr. Katô's wife / Mrs. Katô) / maiasa (every morning) / okimasu ← okiru (to get up) / asa (morning) / shinbun (newspaper) / yomimasu ← yomu

NOTES

③ Katô san wa maiasa roku-ji han ni oki masu.

In one use of the verb ending -masu, it appears with words such as maiasa (every morning), mainichi (every day), and itsumo (always) to show what a person does habitually.

Watashi wa maiasa jōgingu o shi masu.
(I jog every morning.)

Watashi wa mainichi Nihon-go o benkyōshi masu.
(I study Japanese every day.)

Tarô-san wa tokidoki tennisu o shi masu.
(Tarô plays tennis once in a while.)

Katô-san wa tokidoki tabako o sui masu.
(Mr. Katô sometimes smokes.)

④ roku-ji han ni

A time followed by ni is used to tell at what time something is done or happens. If the time is only approximate, goro is used instead of ni. Here are two examples:

6-ji goro (about 6:00)

6-ji han goro (about 6:30)

Katô-san wa, itsumo 8-ji 15 fun mae ni dekakemasu.

(Mr. Katô usually leaves for work at 7:45.)

Tarô-san wa, itsumo 8-ji han goro dekakemasu.

(Tarô usually leaves for school about 8:30.)

Yan-san wa itsumo 7-ji han goro asa-gohan o tabemasu. 11-ji han goro hiru-gohan o tabemasu. Ban-gohan wa 8-ji goro tabemasu. 11-ji goro nemasu.
(Yan always eats breakfast about 7:30. He eats lunch about 11:30. He eats supper about 8:00. He goes to bed about 11:00.)

Exercises

I. Look at the clocks below and see if you can tell what time it is.

Example:

Ni-ji desu.

2.

3.

II. Let's see if you can answer the following questions in Japanese:

1. Nan-ji ni okimasu ka? (7:00)
(What time do you usually get up?)
2. Nan-ji ni asa-gohan o tabemasu ka? (about 7:30)
(What time do you usually have breakfast?)
3. Nan-ji goro dekakemasu ka? (about 8:00)
(About what time do you leave the house?)

4. Nan-ji ni ban-gohan o tabemasu ka? (about 6:30)
 (What time do you usually have supper?)
5. Nan-ji goro nemasu ka? (about 11:00)
 (About what time do you go to bed?)

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

Here is how to write the sounds “na,” “ni,” “nu,” “ne,” and “no” in hiragana.

な	に	ぬ	ね	の
na	ni	nu	ne	no

な	なな (seven)	なか (in ~)	あなた (you)
---	---------------	--------------	--------------

に	なに (what)	にもの (baggage)
---	--------------	------------------

ぬ	いぬ (dog)
---	-------------

ね	ねこ (cat)
---	-------------

の	このかさ (this umbrella)	そのいす (that chair)	あのつくえ (that desk over there)

1. Milk and Newspaper Delivery

At the beginning of today's skit, Mr. Katô went out to the front gate to pick up the milk and the morning paper. Since more and more people are now buying milk at supermarkets, the number who have it delivered is decreasing. But most people do have morning and evening editions of their newspaper delivered. The work is usually done by student part-timers, and in the morning it takes from about 4:00 to 6:30. As in other countries, most people are so rushed in the morning that they glance at the paper over breakfast or read it while commuting.

2. Japanese Breakfasts

A traditional Japanese breakfast includes rice, miso soup, and pickles with such items as fermented soybeans (nattô), a simple omelet, or a dried fish which has been freshly grilled, and dried laver. City people like the Katôs, however, tend to prefer a Western-style breakfast such as ham and eggs with toast, coffee or tea, milk, or perhaps a glass of fruit juice. On the whole, the number of people who eat Western-style breakfasts may be about the same as the number who eat traditional breakfasts.

Words & Phrases to Memorize

maiasa (every morning) / gyûnyû (milk) / nomimasu ← nomu (to drink) / kôcha (tea)

NOTES

- ① Gyûnyû wa nomi masen. (I don't drink milk.)

Do you remember studying this use of wa before? (See Lesson 3, Note ③.) The sentence above is translated "I don't drink milk" but there is an added nuance of "I drink other things, but not milk." Here is another example of wa used in the same way:

Wain wa nomimasu. (I drink wine.)

The implied meaning of this sentence is "In general I don't drink alcohol, but I do drink wine."

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN II

Narêta	Katô-san no okusan wa, mainichi uchi de hatakimasu. Daidokoro no shigoto mo shimasu. Heya no sôji mo shimasu. Sentaku mo shimasu.	Narrator	Mrs. Katô works at home every day.  She does the cooking, the cleaning, and the laundry.

WORDS & PHRASES

okusan (wife) / mainichi (every day) / uchi (house/home) / hatakimasu ← hataraku (to work) / daidokoro (kitchen) / shigoto (work) / heya (room) / sôji (cleaning) / sentaku (laundry)

NOTES

- ② Daidokoro no shigoto mo shimasu.

(She works in the kitchen [as well as doing something else].)

As you see, shimasu (to do) is used with the grammatical particle o in phrases like shigoto o shimasu (to do work), sôji o shimasu (to do housecleaning), and sentaku o shimasu (to do laundry). But when the speaker wants to say "also does," he will use mo instead of o.

③ A mo shimasu.

As you can tell from the example about the kinds of work which Mrs. Katô does, the addition of mo shows that what is done is not limited to just A. The implication is that she does various things. Look at this example:

Jazu mo kikimasu. Kurashikku mo kikimasu.

([I listen to all kinds of music.] I listen to jazz. And I listen to classical music as well.)

④ Uchi de hatarakimasu.

When you want to show the place where something is done, use the formula place + de. The formula for telling where something is is a little different. It's place + ni, so be careful not to get the two mixed up. Look at these simple examples:

Tokyo de hatarakimasu. (I work in Tokyo.)

Tokyo ni imasu. (I'm in Tokyo.)

► MINI-SKIT

(Origami lesson)

Mine Dewa, hajimemasu.
Kyô wa sukina mono o otte kudasai.

Kaihô & Sugihara Hâi.

Mine Kaihō-san wa nani o orimasu ka?

Kaihô Watashi wa tsuru o orimasu.

Mine Sugihara-san wa?

Sugihara Watashi wa fûsen o orimasu.

Mine Dewa, dōzo hajimete kudasai.

(Origami lesson)

Mine Well then, I'm going to begin the lesson.
Today please make whatever you like.

Kaihô & Sugihara Yes, sir.

Mine Kaihō-san, what are you going to make?

Kaihô I'm going to make a crane.

Mine And how about you, Sugihara-san?

Sugihara I'm going to make a balloon.

Mine Well then, go ahead and start.

WORDS & PHRASES

hajimemasu ← hajimeru (to begin) / kyô (today) / sukina mono (something one likes) / otte kudasai ← oru (to fold) / orimasu ← oru (to fold) / tsuru (crane) / fûsen (balloon) / hajimete kudasai ← hajimeru (to begin)

NOTES

⑤ Watashi wa tsuru o ori masu.

(I'm going to make a crane. / I'm going to fold the paper into a crane.)

The verb ending -masu is used here to tell about some action that one intends to perform at some point in time after the present. Thus when Mine-san said "Dewa hajimemasu." at the beginning, he meant "I'm going to begin the lesson." Here are some more examples:

Watashi wa kyô Nihon no eiga o mimasu.

(I'm going to see a Japanese film today.)

Watashi wa ashita yama e ikimasu.

(I'm going to the mountains tomorrow.)

The ending -masu can also be used to ask about or state one's wishes. Below are two examples, one from the main skit, and one which you haven't seen before:

{ Katô: A! Kireina momiji no firumu ga arimasuyo.
(Say! I have a film of some beautiful autumn leaves.)

{ Mimasu ka?
(Would you like to see it?)

{ Yan: Ê. Misetekudasai.
(Yes! Please let me see it.)

{ A: Kôhî, mô ippai ikaga desu ka?
(How about another cup of coffee?)

{ B: Hai, itadakimasu.
(Oh yes, I would like another cup.)

Exercises

I. Read the following questions and give answers about yourself.

Example: Q: Tabako o suimasu ka? (Do you smoke?)

If you smoke, the answer will be

A<sub>1</sub>: Hai, suimasu.

If you don't, then the answer will be

A<sub>2</sub>: Iie, suimasen.

1. Osake o nomimasu ka?
(alcohol)
2. Terebi o mimasu ka?
3. Gohan o tabemasu ka?
(rice)
4. Gyûnyû o nomimasu ka?
5. Jazu o kikimasu ka?
(jazz)
6. Nihon no eiga o mimasu ka?
(Japanese films)
7. Daidokoro no shigoto o shimasu ka?
(kitchen work)
8. Sentaku o shimasu ka?
(laundry)
9. Jogingu o shimasu ka?
(jog)
10. Rajio o kikimasu ka?

II. Now, try to answer the questions in I, but this time give only negative answers following the form shown in the example.

Example: Q: Tabako o suimasu ka?

(Do you smoke?)

A: Tabako wa suimasen.

(I don't smoke cigarettes.)

III. Now, using the suggested answers shown in the pictures, reply to the following questions.

Example: Q: Nani o nomimasu ka?

A: Kôhî o nomimasu.

1. Nani o tabemasu ka?

2. Nani o kikimasu ka?

3. Nani o shimasu ka?

4. Nani o nomimasu ka?

5. Nani o kaimasu ka?

6. Nani o tabemasu ka?

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

は ひ ふ へ ほ ha hi fu he ho

Here you see how the next five Japanese sounds are written in hiragana. Pay special attention to ふ. It is written “fu” in Roman letters, but the sound of the initial consonant is not that of an English “f”.

To produce this sound bring your upper and lower lips close together, leaving only a narrow, level opening between them, and let your breath pass out through this opening. Be careful not to tense your lips, or round them, or stick them out. Be particularly careful not to let your upper teeth touch your lower lip.

は はい はこ はな
(yes) (box) (flower)

ひ ひだり
(left)

へ へya
(room)

ほ ほn にほn
(book) (Japan)

Culture & Life

1. Commuting

Commuting time for those living in Tokyo averages one to one and a half hours. Whether one owns a home or rents, high housing costs force most people to live in a distant suburb. There are quite a few who spend two hours getting to work. The morning rush is so bad that commuters, once they succeed in getting themselves packed into a train, can hardly move at all and have a hard time forcing their way off when the train finally reaches their station.

2. Full-time Housewives

The number of Japanese women who have no outside employment at all is decreasing. A common pattern is for a young woman to get a job after finishing school, to quit when she marries or has her first child, and then, when the family is faced with repaying a housing loan and the high cost of educating the children, to take up work that can be done at home or to find a part-time job.

3. Company Employees' Dinner

Mr. Katô seems to get home around 8:00 most evenings, but the practice of working overtime is so common that company employees often can't eat supper with their families. They may send out for some noodles and eat at their desk, or they may grab a simple supper at a restaurant near the office. Others may wait until they get home and eat a warmed-over meal all alone. Sometimes the men who have been at the office until late go out to eat and drink together after finishing up. In the Tokyo area, trains carrying commuters home are crowded until fairly late at night.

Words & Phrases to Memorize

gyûnyû (milk)

kôcha (((black) tea)

(shigoto o) shimasu ← suru (to do) the Kegon Falls.

Yan Oh, really?

Tarô Yan, did you take a bath in a hot spring?

Yan Of course. I wore a kimono, too.

Mr. Katô Well, well.

Yan I even wore wooden clogs.

See, here they are.

Mr. Katô Here you are.

(Mr. Katô laughs and hands the picture to his wife.)

Mrs. Katô It's really true.

Mr. Katô Hmm, this is a good photograph.

Yan I intend to send that one to my parents.

Mr. Katô Is that so.

Tarô Yan, which inn did you stay at?

Yan I stayed at an inn close to the lake.

Katô Ê.

Midori Atashi mo yo.

Katô Nikkô wa ii tokoro da yo. Nê, okâsan.

Mr. Katô Ah, we stayed at this inn last fall too, didn't we?

Mrs. Katô Yes. We went to see the autumn foliage.

Mr. Katô Oh— we have a film of the beautiful autumn foliage.
Would you like to see it?

Yan Yes, please let me see it.

Mr. Katô Well, then...
(He stops his wife, who has stood up.)

Mr. Katô That's all right. Tarô.

Tarô Right.

Mrs. Katô Oh, Tarô, the film is in the drawer.

Tarô All right.

Mrs. Katô Please drink your tea.
We're going this year, too.

Midori I intend to go with you this year.

Mrs. Katô Well, then, please study hard.

Midori I will.

Yan When (do you plan to go)?

Mrs. Katô At the end of October.
Won't you come with us?

Yan By all means, please take me along.

Midori Wow!

Mr. Katô All right, everyone, we're ready.
Please come this way.

SCENE 8 The tatami room

Tarô Ready, set, go!

Yan What beautiful color!

Mr. Katô I filmed this myself.
(The film shows Mrs. Katô coming down the steps in front of Tôshôgû.)

Tarô Here's what we've been waiting for!

Yan By all means, please please take me with you this fall.

Mr. Katô [Interjection of agreement]

Midori Me too.

Mr. Katô Nikkô's a nice place, isn't it, Mother?

End of Episode Six

Lesson 11

Today's Expressions

1. I went by car.
2. When did you go to Nikkô?

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN

Katô fujin Nikkô e wa itsu itta n desu ka?

Yan Senshû no doyôbi desu.

Katô fujin Densha de?

Yan Iie, kuruma de ikimashita.

Mrs. Katô When did you go to Nikkô?

Yan Last Saturday.

Mrs. Katô Did you go by train?

Yan No, I went by car.

WORDS & PHRASES

Nikkô (name of a place) / itsu (when) / itta ← iku (went) / senshû (last week) / doyôbi (Saturday) / densha (train) / kuruma (car) / ikimashita ← itta (went)

NOTES

- ① Kuruma de iki mashita. (I went by car.)

   mashita is the past form of    masu.

(Watashi wa) ashita yama e ikimasu.

(Tomorrow I'm going to go to the mountains.)

(Watashi wa) senshû yama e ikimashita.

(I went to the mountains last week.)

- ② ikimashita — itta

Ikimashita is the past form of ikimasu and is used at the end of a sentence when the speaker is talking politely to someone. Itta is also a past tense of the same verb, but it is used when there is no need for politeness. It is called the plain past form. To make it, just change the -te/-de form that is used before kudasai to ta or da. Here are some examples:

itte	→	itta	(went)
hanashite	→	hanashita	(spoke)
yonde	→	yonda	(read)
kaite	→	kaita	(wrote)
haitte	→	haitta	(went in)
kiite	→	kiita	(heard / listened)
mite	→	mita	(saw)
shimete	→	shimeta	(shut / closed)
akete	→	aketa	(opened)
tsukatte	→	tsukatta	(used)

③ Itsu itta n desu ka?

itta n desu is a form used to explain a reason or a situation, or to inquire of another person about a reason or a situation. In the English translation of the following exchange from the skit, the implication of Yan's words has been spelled out clearly.

- { Tarô: Zuibun takusan torimashita ne.
(You really took a lot of pictures, didn't you!)
- { Yan: Sengetsu atarashii kamera o katta n desu.
(Yes. That's because I just bought a new camera last month.)

If Yan had used mashita instead of itta n desu in this situation, his reply would have been just a simple statement of fact. It wouldn't really have fit into the context of their conversation, and Tarô would have felt that Yan was making an unrelated statement out of the clear blue sky.

- { Tarô: Zuibun takusan torimashita ne.
(You really took a lot of pictures, didn't you!)
- { Yan: Sengetsu atarashii kamera o kaimashita.
(Last month, I bought a new camera.)

④ Itsu itta n desu ka? (When was it that you went?/When did you go?)

This is how to ask "when" about something that a person says he has done or is going to do.

- { A: Itsu iku n desu ka? (When are you going?)
- { B: Ashita ikimasu. (I'm going tomorrow.)
- { A: Itsu itta n desu ka? (When did you go?)
- { B: Kinô ikimashita. (I went yesterday.)

Here are some expressions that you will need to know if you are to answer questions about when something happened. (For the names of the months and days of the week, see the Appendix of Volume 1.)

ototoi	(the day before yesterday)	asa	(morning)	kesa	(this morning)
kinô	(yesterday)	hiru	(noon)	konban	(tonight)
kyô	(today)	yûgata	(evening)	yûbe	(last night)
ashita	(tomorrow)	yoru	(night)
asatte	(the day after tomorrow)

senshû ( last week )	sengetsu ( last month )	kyonen ( last year ) konshû ( this week )	kongetsu ( this month )	kotoshi ( this year ) raishû ( next week )	raigetsu ( next month )	rainen ( next year )

haru ( spring )	gozen ( morning ) natsu ( summer )	gogo ( afternoon ) aki ( fall ) fuyu ( winter )

The expressions above can be applied in the following ways:

senshû no doyôbi	( last Saturday ) raishû no getsuyôbi	( next Monday ) nichiyôbi no yoru	( Sunday night ) ashita no asa hachi-ji ni	( tomorrow morning at eight ) kyonen no jûichi-gatsu	( last November ) kyonen no ni-gatsu	( last February ) senkyûhyaku hachijûni-nen no natsu	( the summer of 1982 ) senkyûhyaku kyûjû-nen no haru	( the spring of 1990 )

► MINI-SKIT

Now call to mind the Mini-Skit in which Detective Mine was questioning Kaihō-san and Sugihara-san about the burglary. Here we aren't going to give a complete transcription, so you're on your own!

WORDS & PHRASES

kagi (key) / itsumo (always) / shimemasu ← shimeru (to close ~) / yûbe (last night) / shimeta (closed) / tashikani (certainly/without a doubt) / mado (window) / nomimashita ← nonda (drank) / okusan (the wife of the house) / banana (banana) / tabemashita ← tabeta (ate) / goshujin (the master of the house) / nan-ji ni (at what time) / nemashita ← neta (went to bed) / naruhodo (I see.) / hannin (the criminal) / Wakarimashita ka? (Have you found out?) / wakarimasen (I don't know)

NOTES

Both polite past forms and plain past forms were heard in this Mini-Skit. Let's compare the verb forms that Sugihara-san used in speaking and the verb forms that the detective scrawled in his notebook.

Okusan: Watashi ga shimemashita.
(I closed it.)

Okusan: Watashi ga nomimashita.
(I drank it.)

Goshujin: Watashi ga tabemashita.
(I ate it.)

Goshujin: Watashi wa jûni-ji ni nemashita.
(I went to bed at 12:00.)

Exercises

I. Let's review the forms of some commonly used verbs. Fill in the parentheses and complete the chart.

	plain form (dictionary form)		masu form (polite form)
	present	past	present	past
1.	iku (to go)	(            )	ikimasu	ikimashita
2.	taberu (to eat)	tabeta	(            )	tabemashita
3.	kau (to buy)	(            )	kaimasu	kaimashita
4.	yomu (to read)	yonda	yomimasu	(            )
5.	miru (to see)	(            )	mimasu	mimashita
6.	kaku (to write)	(            )	kakimasu	kakimashita
7.	nomu (to drink)	nonda	(            )	nomimashita
8.	suru (to do)	shita	shimasu	(            )
9.	kiku (to listen)	kiita	(            )	kikimashita
10.	kuru (to come)	(            )	kimasu	kimashita

II. Answer each question using the given cues.

Example: Q: Itsu itta n desu ka? — kinô (yesterday)
(When did you go, say, to the mountains?)

A: Kinô ikimashita.
(I went yesterday.)

1. Itsu yonda n desu ka? — senshû (last week)
(When did you read, say, the article?)
2. Itsu katta n desu ka? — kyonen (last year)
(When did you buy, say, the car?)
3. Itsu miru n desu ka? — ashita (tomorrow)

Culture & Life

1. Passenger Cars

At the beginning of today's skit Tarô was washing the family car, and this fact in itself shows how well off the Katos are. Overpopulation and extremely high land prices in the metropolitan area mean that only a very few can live in a house which has enough space for a garage or a carport. Since the rent for a parking space is high, and since there are also taxes and obligatory automobile insurance fees to be paid, it is quite expensive to maintain a car. Even so, car ownership has become commonplace. This is not necessarily proof of a high standard of living, however, for there are many who have given up on owning a home of their own and have decided that instead they'll at least have a car.

2. Nikkô

This famous sightseeing spot, the one Yan visited in the skit, is about two hours by train from Tokyo. In addition to the architectural beauty of Tôshôgû Shrine, the area is blessed with great natural beauty, and many people go there in all four seasons to enjoy the lake, the waterfall, and the scenery of the highland plains. A great percentage of them are foreign tourists, many of whom are on a day trip by tourist bus from Tokyo.

Tôshôgû Shrine contains the mausoleum of Tokugawa Ieyasu, the first of the Tokugawa shôguns. The most famous structure at the shrine, which is associated with the area so closely that it may well be called the symbol of Nikkô itself, is the Yômeimon Gate. The luxuriousness and gorgeous design on view here are ample proof both of the skill of early Edo artisans and of the power of the Tokugawas. It is no wonder that Yan, a specialist in architecture, took so many pictures of this famous wooden structure.

Lesson 12

Today's Expressions

- |      |                                |
|------|--------------------------------|
| 1. { | A: Did you ride the cable car? |
|      | B: No, I didn't.               |
2. I'm going to send that picture to my parents.

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN I

Katô Yan san, kêburukâ niwa norimashita ka?

Mr. Katô Yan, did you ride the cable car?

Yan Iie, norimasen deshita.

Yan No, I didn't.

WORDS & PHRASES

kêburukâ (cable car) / norimashita ← notta (rode) / norimasen deshita ← noranakatta
(I didn't ride it.)

NOTES

① Kêburukâ niwa norimashita ka?

The verb noru means "to ride" and the word in the blank before ni tells what the person rode in or on.

Basu ni norimasu. (I'm going to take a bus.)

Densha ni norimashita. (I rode in a train.)

② Kêburukâ niwa norimashita ka?

We have already studied sentences in which   wa shows that   is the topic under discussion. This is another example of the same thing, but here ni is needed after kêburukâ. The particle wa — which marks the word group immediately before it as the topic — thus comes after ni, giving the combination niwa.

③ Iie, nori masen deshita.

~masen deshita is the negative form of ~mashita. Below are the past negative forms of a few common verbs:

Negative	Affirmative	Dictionary form
norimasen deshita	norimashita	noru (to ride)
nomimasen deshita	nomimashita	nomu (to drink)
tabemasen deshita	tabemashita	taberu (to eat)
mimasen deshita	mimashita	miru (to look) kaimasen deshita	kaimashita	kau (to buy)
yomimasen deshita	yomimashita	yomu (to read)

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN II

Tarô Yan san, onsen ni haitta n desu ka?

Yan Ê, mochiron.

Kimono mo kimashita yo.

Katô Ô.

Yan Geta mo hakimashita.

Hora kono geta desu.

Katô Hora.

(Mr. Katô laughs and hands the picture to his wife.)

Fujin Â, honto.

Katô Ūn, kore wa ii shashin da.

Yan Sono shashin wa ryôshin ni okuru tsumori desu.

Katô Hô.

Tarô Yan, did you take a bath in a hot spring?

Yan Of course.

I wore a kimono, too.

Mr. Katô Well, well.

Yan I even wore wooden clogs.

See, here they are.

Mr. Katô Here you are.

(Mr. Katô laughs and hands the picture to his wife.)

Mrs. Katô It's really true.

Mr. Katô Hmm, this is a good photograph.

Yan I intend to send that one to my parents.

WORDS & PHRASES

onsen (hot spring) / mochiron (of course) / kimono (kimono) / kimashita ← kita (wore) / geta (wooden clogs) / hora (See?) / honto (really) / ii (good) / shashin (photograph) / ryôshin ((my) parents) / okuru (to send) / tsumori (intention)

NOTES

④ (Watashi wa) okuru tsumori desu.

This expression means "I intend to ~" or "I'm going to ~" or "I'm thinking of ~."

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| { | A: Itsu iku n desu ka?                  |
|   | (When are you going?)                   |
| { | B: Doyôbi no gogo iku tsumori desu.     |
|   | (I intend to go on Saturday afternoon.) |

The important point to remember when you use this pattern is that the verb before tsumori should be in the plain present form (the dictionary form). Below is a list of the plain present forms of the verbs that appeared (in their -masu forms) on the screen in this lesson:

ikimasu	→	iku
kakimasu	→	kaku
yomimasu	→	yomu
nomimasu	→	nomu
tabemasu	→	taberu
okimasu	→	okiru

☐ tsumori desu differs from ☐ masu in that it is a bit more tentative. It tells what one's intentions are at the moment. The following example may help to make this point clearer:

A: Kinyôbi no pâti, ikimasu ka?
(Are you going to the party on Friday?)

B: Hai, iku tsumori desu.
(Yes, I intend to.)

A: Kinyôbi no pâti, ikimasu ka?
(Are you going to the party on Friday?)

B: Hai, ikimasu.
(Yes, I am.)

⑤ Sono shashin wa ryôshin ni okuru tsumori desu.

The idea "send a picture" would normally be expressed as shashin o okuru in Japanese. But here, since Yan is speaking of the same picture that Mr. Katô made mention of, the grammatical particle wa is used after shashin instead of o. The English translation below, while somewhat unnatural, should help you to understand the function of wa here:

Katô: Ūn, kore wa ii shashin da.
(Umm. This is a very nice picture.)

Yan: Sono shashin wa ryôshin ni okuru tsumori desu.
(As for that picture, I'm going to send it to my parents.)

Exercises

I. Answer each of the following questions using the ~masen deshita form.

- { Q: Norimashita ka? (Did you ride on it?)
 { A: Iie, norimasen deshita. (No, I didn't.)
 (See Lesson 12, Note ③.)

- { Q: Notta n desu ka?
 { A: Iie, norimasen deshita.
 (See Lesson 11, Note ③.)

1. Tabemashita ka? (Did you eat it?)
2. Kaimashita ka? (Did you buy it?)
3. Nomimashita ka? (Did you drink it?)
4. Yomimashita ka? (Did you read it?)
5. Kakimashita ka? (Did you write it?)
6. Nonda n desu ka? (Did you drink it?)
7. Itta n desu ka? (Did you go?)
8. Mita n desu ka? (Did you see it?)
9. Katta n desu ka? (Did you buy it?)
10. Ikimashita ka? (Did you go?)

II. The following pictures show what Yan did one day. After looking at them carefully, answer the questions below. Rule 1: The pictures are in chronological order. Rule 2: Yan didn't do anything that doesn't appear in the pictures.

(11)

1. Yan san wa nan-ji ni okimashita ka?
2. Asa jōgingu o shimashita ka?
3. Asa-gohan o tabemashita ka?
4. Tomato jūsu o nomimashita ka?
5. Asa terebi o mimashita ka?
6. Densha ni norimashita ka?
(a train)
7. Yūbinkyoku e ikimashita ka?
8. Nan-ji ni hiru-gohan o tabemashita ka?
9. Nani o tabemashita ka?
10. Gogo tenisu o shimashita ka?
11. Gogo doko e ikimashita ka?
12. Nani o kaimashita ka?
13. Yoru nani o tabemashita ka?
14. Yoru shinbun o yomimashita ka?
15. Rajio o kikimashita ka?
16. Jūichi-ji ni nemashita ka?

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

ら り る れ ろ ra ri ru re ro

To produce the consonant sound that comes at the beginning of each of these syllables, flick the tip of your tongue against the gums just behind your upper front teeth. Be sure to use only the tip of your tongue and to make the flicking movement quick and light. This sound is not the same as either an English "r" or an English "l."

ら おさら
(plate)

り あります のります
(There is.) (I will ride it.)

る くるま
(car)

れ これ それ あれ
(this) (that) (that (over there))

ろ ろく うしろ
(six) (behind)

Culture & Life

1. Hot Springs

Yan said that he had taken a hot spring bath at Nikkô. There are hot springs scattered throughout Japan, and many people go to enjoy bathing in them. Since they are good for the health, they have long been popular with the elderly, but a few years ago visiting hot springs became fashionable among the young too, and nowadays, even in inaccessible mountain areas, one can see college-age groups who've come to take a soak.

2. Kimono & Geta

Yan announced that he had worn a kimono and showed a picture of himself in one, but a more exact name for the garment he was wearing is “yukata.” (See picture.) Yukata used to be worn at home as a matter of course on relaxed occasions, such as after taking a bath on summer evenings. They are quite cheap, and at Japanese inns it is routine procedure to lay out a yukata for the use of each guest.

A real kimono, on the other hand, is very expensive. Furthermore, wearing a kimono according to recognized rules of fashion is a difficult matter, and it's virtually impossible even to put one on by oneself without some training.

Geta are wooden clogs (see picture) worn, for example, with a yukata.

Modern Japanese, who rush around busily in Western clothes and shoes during the day, have a nostalgic longing to get away from it all once in a while. They dream of visiting some country area to soak in a hot spring and then changing into a cool cotton yukata and wooden clogs and going out for a leisurely stroll.

EPISODE SEVEN

A BASEBALL GAME (For Lessons 13 & 14)

► Synopsis

A day at the ball park. Tarô and Midori are at the stadium, waiting for Yan — who is still at the office. He arrives just as the game begins. We see scenes of the game, the cheering section, and telecasting — a switch to Mr. Katô watching the same game on TV at home. Tarô and Midori come home and find their father asleep on the couch in front of the TV set.

Narrator The cheering section is cheering.
Midori also cheers enthusiastically.

Voice over loudspeaker In the bottom of the fifth inning, the Tigers at bat...

Yan Tarô, is this game being broadcast?

Tarô Yes, it is. See?

(He hands his radio earphone to Yan.)

Yan Hmm, it's really true, they're broadcasting it.

Midori Yan, they're showing it on TV too. See?

(She points to a TV camera.)

SCENE 6 The Katos' living room

Voice of TV broadcaster ...meter winds from the south, with a relative humidity of 73%, and a high of... in the Yokohama area today. The high has not reached 30°C today. It's a cool summer. Sano's up to bat. Motoi gets around behind the ball and makes the long throw to first. It was behind second base.

Narrator Mr. Katô is watching the same ball game on TV.

Mr. Katô Ah.

(He stretches out on the couch.)

Mr. Katô Where are Tarô and Midori?

Mr. Katô What? They're watching this game with Yan?

Mrs. Katô That's right.

SCENE 7 The baseball stadium

(Yan, Tarô, and Midori are totally absorbed in watching the game.)

[8] Ima

Katô Yattâ. Ha ha ha ha ha...

[11] Yakyûjô

[12] Genkan

Tarô Tadaimâ.

Midori Tadaimâ.

Tarô Tadaimâ.

Katô fujin Okaeri.

Tarô Tadaima.

Midori Otôsan wa?

Fujin Otôsan wa, heya de terebi o mite imasu yo.

(Midori opens the living room door.)

Midori Ara, otôsan, mô mite masen yo.

(Mr. Katô is asleep on the couch.)

Fujin Ara! Mâ.

Tarô Oyasumi.

Midori Oyasumi.

SCENE 8 The Katos' living room

Mr. Katô He did it! [He laughs.]

TV broadcaster It's a line drive. Going... gone! A home run. The pitcher, Kadota, just watches the ball go. Kakefu... steps on home plate for the Tigers' third run. The score is now 3 to 2.

Narrator Mr. Katô is drinking beer while he watches TV.

Mr. Katô Mother, another bottle of beer.

SCENE 9 The baseball stadium

Tarô Go!

Midori Go!

TV broadcaster The score is now 4 to 3. The Whales have turned the tables and are now ahead by one run, thanks to Motoi's timely hit. Yesterday, his oldest son Masahiro...

SCENE 10 The Katos' living room

(Disappointed at the reversal of the Tigers' lead, Mr. Katô turns off the TV.)

SCENE 11 The baseball stadium

SCENE 12 The foyer of the Katôs' home

Tarô We're home.

Midori We're home.

Tarô We're home!

Mrs. Katô Welcome back.

Tarô We're home.

Midori Where's Father?

Mrs. Katô He's watching TV in the (other) room.

(Midori opens the living room door.)

Midori He's not watching TV anymore.

(Mr. Katô is asleep on the couch.)

Mrs. Katô Well, well.

Tarô Good night.

Midori Good night.

---

Today's Expressions

1. On the field, the players are warming up.
2. Yan is still working.
3. Are you still working?

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN I

Narêtâ Koko wa yakyûjô desu.
Gurando dewa, ima, senshu ga renshû
o shite imasu.
Sutando dewa, Tarô-san to Midori-san ga, senshu no renshû o mite imasu.

Narrator *This is a baseball stadium.
Right now, the players are warming up.

Tarô and Midori are sitting in the stands, watching them practice.*

WORDS & PHRASES

yakyûjô (baseball stadium) / gurando (athletic field) / senshu (player) / renshû (warming up/practice) / sutando (the stands) / mite imasu ← miru (to watch)

NOTES

- ① Senshu ga renshû o shite imasu. (The players are practicing.)

The -te form of verbs, when followed by imasu, expresses an action which is being performed now. The word before ga tells who is performing the action.

- ② Gurando dewa, senshu ga renshû o shite imasu.

(On the field the players are practicing.)

We've already studied the de in dewa. (See Lesson 10.) Here's an example you should remember:

Katô-san no okusan wa uchi de hatarakimasu.

(Mrs. Katô works in the house.)

In this lesson the combination dewa appeared. It is used for emphasis and shows that what is happening in one place (the field) is being contrasted with what is happening in another place (the stands).

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN II

Narêtâ Yan-san wa, mada shigoto o shite imasu.

(The phone rings.)

Hara Hai, moshi moshi. E! Hai, sô, hai, sô desu.

Takahashi Yan-san, denwa desu yo.

Yan Hai, dômo. Moshi moshi, Yan desu. Â, Tarô-kun.

Tarô no koe Nan da, Yan-san. Mada shigoto o shite iru n desu ka?

Yan Sô na n desu yo. Ima, taipu o utte imasu. Mô, hajimarimashita ka?

Narrator Yan is still working.

Mr. Hara Hello? Yes, that's right.

Mr. Takahashi Yan, you have a call.

Yan Thank you. Hello? This is Yan speaking. Oh, Tarô.

Tarô [offstage] What's going on, Yan? You mean you're still working?

Yan That's right. Right now, I'm typing. Has it started?

WORDS & PHRASES

mada (still) / shigoto o shite imasu ←shigoto o suru (to work) / denwa (phone call) / taipu o utte imasu ←taipu o utsu (to type)

NOTES

- ③ Yan-san wa mada shigoto o shite imasu. (Yan is still working.)

The addition of wa after Yan's name shows that the narrator has taken Yan as his topic. The sentence tells us what Yan (the person under discussion) is doing.

- ④ Tarô-kun

The suffix -kun is used between men of more or less equal status or to a man of lesser status in friendly, informal conversation.

By this time Yan and Tarô have become quite friendly, so Yan uses -kun. But when he first met Tarô at the airport he addressed him as "Tarô-san," didn't he?

- ⑤ Mada shigoto o shite iru n desu ka?

Here is another example of the plain past + n desu.

The instant Yan answered the phone Tarô realized that he must still be working, and his use of this pattern shown his surprise and disappointment.

Shigoto o shite imasu.

Shigoto o shite iru + n desu.

Writing & Pronunciation

や ya

ゆ yu

よ yo

や

やま (mountain)

へや (room)

ゆ

よ

よろしく
(I ask your favor.)

よ-ji
(4:00)

わ wa

This sound wa is more relaxed than the sound in English words like water, so be careful not to round your lips when you pronounce it.

わ

わたし
(I/me)

ん n

It is important to remember that ん is a full, independent syllable. It must be given the same time value as each of the other syllables we have studied—not just tacked on at the end of the previous sound.

ん

Yanさん
(Yan)

ほん (book)

さんまい
(3 (flat thin things))

This ん is the only syllable in Japanese whose pronunciation changes according to the sound preceding it. For example, when ん comes before an “m” sound, as in さんまい, it also takes on an “m” sound. This word is therefore pronounced “sammai”.

Culture & Life

1. Professional Baseball

Baseball is one of the most popular of all sports in Japan. Each year it draws more spectators than any other sport. There are twelve professional teams, each with its own rabid fans. Many of these fans take their baseball so seriously that they show up at work the morning after a loss in a bad mood! Television and radio broadcasts of professional baseball are so numerous that sometimes during the season it's hard to find any other programs.

2. Cheering Groups

Each team has its own privately organized rooting group, a club of fervent fans which includes people of all ages and all walks of life. There were glimpses of the cheering section in the skit; these fans appear in gaudy costumes, wave flags, play Western or Japanese musical instruments, and scream their lungs out for a full nine innings.

Words & Phrases to Memorize

yakyûjô (baseball stadium)

Lesson 14

Today's Expressions

1. What are you doing?
2. Mr. Katô is drinking beer while watching TV.

► MINI-SKIT

(Kaihô-san comes in and finds Sugihara-san hunting for something.)

Kaihô Nani o shite iru n desu ka?

Sugihara Hyaku-en dama o sagashite iru n desu.

(Mine-san enters.)

Mine Nani o shite iru n desu Ka?

Kaihô Sugihara san no hyaku-en dama o sagashite iru n desu.

Mine Hûn.

Kaihô Â, arimashita.

(Kaihô-san comes in and finds Sugihara-san hunting for something.)

Kaihô What are you doing?

Sugihara I'm hunting for a hundred-yen coin.

(Mine-san enters.)

Mine What are you doing?

Kaihô We're hunting for Sugihara-san's hundred-yen coin.

Mine Oh.

Kaihô Ah, here it is!

WORDS & PHRASES

hyaku-en dama (100-yen coin) / sagashite iru ←sagasu (to search)

NOTES

- ① Nani o shite iru n desu ka? (What are you doing?)

The following questions may be used to a person who is obviously doing something:

[To a person who's looking at something: ]

Nani o mite iru n desu ka?
(What are you looking at?)

[To a person who's eating something: ]

Nani o tabete iru n desu ka?
(What are you eating?)

[To a person who's drinking something: ]

Nani o nonde iru n desu ka?
(What are you drinking?)

[To a person who's writing something: ]

Nani o kaite iru n desu ka?
(What are you writing?)

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN

(Mr. Katô is watching a baseball game on TV in the living room.)

Narêtâ Katô-san wa bîru o nominagara terebi o mite imasu.

(Mr. Katô is watching a baseball game on TV in the living room.)

WORDS & PHRASES

bîru (beer) / nominagara ← nomu (to drink) / terebi (television) / mite imasu (He is watching (something).)

NOTES

- ② Anagara Bte imasu.

The main part of the sentence expresses the idea "someone is doing B," and the rest of the sentence tells about something else that the person is doing at the same time.

Example 1: Bîru o nomi nagara terebi o mite imasu.

(He/She is drinking beer while he/she watches television.)

Example 2: Okashi o tabe nagara shinbun o yonde imasu.

(He/She is eating sweets while he/she reads the newspaper.)

The important point to remember here is that the verb form which comes before nagara is the same as the form which comes before -masu. Look at these examples:

Example 1: nomi masu

nomi

nomi nagara

Example 2: tabe masu

tabe

tabe nagara

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN II

(In the living room of Mr. Katô's house)

Katô Tarô to Midori wa?

Fujin Ima yakyûjô de Yan-san to isshoni kono shiai o mite imasu yo.

(In the living room of Mr. Katô's house)

Mr. Katô Where are Tarô and Midori?

WORDS & PHRASES

ima (now) / yakyûjô (baseball stadium) / shiai (game) / mite imasu ← miru (to watch)

NOTES

③  to isshoni

When the name of a person is put in the blank, this phrase means "(together) with somebody."

Senshû tomodachi to isshoni umi e ikimashita.

(Last week I went to the seaside with a friend.)

Raigetsu haha to isshoni Nihon e ikimasu.

(Next month I'm going to go to Japan (together) with my mother.)

Exercises

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

II. Using nagara and -te imasu, describe what the people in the pictures are doing. (The solid lines indicate main activities, and the dotted lines secondary activities.)

1.

3.

4.

5.

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

The small letter ゃ sometimes appears between two hiragana letters of normal size. Compare the following sentences:

{	Koko ni kite kudasai.      (Please come here.)
	 きて
{	Kitte o kudasai.      (Please give me some stamps.)
	 きて

{	Soko ni ite kudasai.      (Please stay there.)
	 いて
{	Massugu itte kudasai.      (Please go straight.)
	 まっすぐ いって

The places written with a double “s” or a double “t” in Roman letters are indicated with a small in hiragana. Pay careful attention to the length of such sounds, for each of these small letters represents a syllable and must receive the same time value as other syllables.

き	て

Culture & Life

Enjoying Baseball

In the skit, Mr. Katô was drinking beer while watching a baseball game on TV. For the average company employee, an evening of relaxation in the summer means taking a bath before supper to soak away his fatigue, and then later enjoying a ball game on television over beer and something to nibble on.

Perhaps because the team he was rooting for got behind, Mr. Katô turned the TV off and fell asleep, but most hard-core fans will stay up to watch one of the numerous sports news shows around 11 in order to savor a rehash of the day's results. Then the next morning they will buy a sports paper so that they can read commentaries on the previous day's games on their way to work. During the baseball season, station newsstands are overflowing with sports papers.

EPISODE EIGHT

SHOPPING IN AKIHABARA (For Lessons 15 & 16)

► Synopsis

A hot day in midsummer. Yan brings the Suzukis a present: lacquered chopsticks from his trip to Hida Takayama. They have a glass of cold barley tea, talk about the weather, and look at Yan's photographs from his trip. Yan then leaves to go with Tarô to Akihabara. With Tarô's help, he bargains for a stereo radiol tape recorder. They return to the Katô's, where Mr. Katô is just coming out of the bath. Yan soaks in the bath while the family enjoys the new tape recorder. The skit closes with a scene of a family in the neighborhood playing with sparklers.

 Tarô, what do you think?
Tarô Hmm, yes, it does.
Yan How much is it?
Salesman It's 45,000 yen.
Yan Eh? 45,000 yen?
 This one's cheaper, isn't it?
Salesman That one's not stereo.
Yan Oh, really? But 45,000 yen is a little expensive.
Tarô Yes, it is.
Salesman Well then, how about 42,000 yen?
 This item for 42,000 yen.
 That's cheap.
Yan What do you think, Tarô?
Tarô 42,000 yen... Come here.
(The two move away from the salesman and talk.)
Tarô Well, maybe some other time.
Salesman Wait, wait. Well then, how about this price? 40,000 yen, this item for 40,000 yen.

SCENE 3 The Katôs' living room

Midori Wow! You got this for 40,000 yen?
Mrs. Katô That's really cheap.
Yan Yes.
Mrs. Katô The design is nice, too.
Tarô Look, Yan, it's bigger than ours.

Midori Dore. Wâ, honto da.
Katô Â, ii yu datta.

[6] Katô-ke no chikaku

(Families with children play with sparklers.)

Midori Let's see. Wow, it really is!
Mr. Katô Ah, that was a good bath.
 Yan, won't you have one, too?
Yan Oh, thank you.
Mrs. Katô Wasn't the bath too hot?
Mr. Katô No, it wasn't. It was just right.
 Don't stand on ceremony, Yan.
 Tarô, show him to the bath.
Tarô Right.
Yan Well, if you insist...
Tarô Let's go.
(He shows Yan the way to the bath.)
Mr. Katô Ah, it's hot. The breeze from the fan isn't cool at all.
 Hey, Midori, the air conditioner.
 Midori, the air conditioner!
Midori It's not that hot tonight.
Mr. Katô Mother, (isn't there any) cold beer?
Mrs. Katô Yes, yes, there is.
(Mr. Katô notices Yan's new tape recorder and puts on the cassette tape lying beside it.)
Mr. Katô Hmm, this is really something. Oh,
 "The Girl from Hakodate"?
(He sings a line from the song.)

SCENE 4 The bath

(The sound of the song "The Girl from Hakodate" can be heard from the living room.)

Mrs. Katô [offstage] Yan, isn't the bath water too cool?

Yan No, it's not. It's just right.
Mrs. Katô [offstage] Oh? Well, please take your time.

Yan Thank you.

SCENE 5 The living room

Tarô Shh!
*(The Katôs all listen to Yan singing "The Girl from

SCENE 6 The Katôs' neighborhood

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN I

(The veranda of the landlord's house)

Suzuki fujin Irasshai.

Yan Ojamashite imasu.

Fujin Mugicha o dôzo.

Yan A, arigatô gozaimasu.
Â, tsumetai. Oishii desu ne.

(The veranda of the landlord's house)

Mrs. Suzuki Welcome.

Yan I'm sorry to be intruding.

Mrs. Suzuki Please have some barley tea.

Yan Oh, thank you.

Ah, it's cold. It's good, isn't it!

WORDS & PHRASES

mugicha (barley tea) / tsumetai (cold) / oishii (good/delicious)

NOTES

① Â, tsumetai. Oishii desu ne.

Yan's exclamation "Â, tsumetai!" provides an example of an adjective used at the end of a sentence. The addition of desu at the end would have made it a politer utterance, and the further addition of ne would have shown that Yan was seeking understanding, sympathy, or agreement from his listeners.

Compare these two sentences.

Oishii mugicha desu ne.

(This is good barley tea, isn't it!)

Kono mugicha, oishii desu ne.

(This barley tea is good, isn't it!)

But if a person speaks as though to himself without feeling conscious of the presence of others, there is no need to add desu.

Â, tsumetai. (Oh, it's cold!)

Suzuki Ikaga deshita ka?
Yan Iyâ, subarashikatta desu.

Mr. Suzuki Did you go to Takayama?
Yan Yes, I went to see the old Japanese architecture.
Mr. Suzuki How was it?
Yan Oh, it was wonderful.

WORDS & PHRASES

Takayama (a place name: see Culture & Life) / furui (old) / tatemono (building) / subarashikatta (subarashii) (wonderful)

NOTES

② Ikaga deshita ka?

This expression is used to ask someone about his impression of something or about the outcome of something. The answer is usually an adjective in the past tense, with the nuance "I felt that it was..."

③ Subarashikatta desu.

This is an adjective in the past tense with desu added at the end for politeness' sake. In Japanese the form of adjectives changes if they refer to the past. Here are some examples showing how to form past adjectives:

tsumetai	(cold)	:	tsumeta i	+ katta	→	tsumetakatta
oishii	(delicious)	:	oishi i	+ katta	→	oishikatta
subarashii	(wonderful)	:	subarashi i	+ katta	→	subarashikatta
atsui	(hot)	:	atsu i	+ katta	→	atsukatta
suzushii	(cool)	:	suzushi i	+ katta	→	suzushikatta

Exercises

I. After looking at the pictures decide what the two people are saying to each other and express it as “_____ desu ne.” Hints about the right adjectives to use are given below.

5. (You've been swimming in the lake.)

Someone: Ikaga deshita ka?

You: _____

Adjectives: muzukashii oishii omoshiroi takai tsumetai

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

Writing Lengthened Vowel Sounds in Hiragana

When writing Japanese in Roman letters we have used "ô" to represent a lengthened "o." Look at the examples below to see how such sounds are written in hiragana:

Ohayô gozaimasu. (Good morning.)

おはよう

Katô-san Tarô-san

かとうさん たろうさん

As you see, it is usually done by writing . * Below is a list of sample lengthened "ô" sounds:

ô — おう *

kô — こう

sô — そう

tô — とう

nô — のう

hô — ほう

mô — もう

yô — よう

rô — ろう

* Here are a few words which are exceptions:

ôkii → おおきい (big) tô → とお (ten)

Although the lengthened vowel and the syllable before it together receive the time value of two syllables, note that they should not be pronounced separately. Just draw the vowel sound of the first one out to twice its normal length.

① chiisai (small)

ちいさい

Do not pronounce two short, separate "i" sounds, but one long one.

kiroi (yellow)

きいろい

② sensei (teacher)

せんせい

The last syllable is not pronounced as "i." Just draw out the "e" in the preceding syllable to twice its normal length.

tokei (clock)

とけい

Culture & Life

1. Symbols of Summer in Japan

fûrin

(wind bells)

The slightest breeze causes a wind bell to tinkle. In the summer people hang them in front of open windows and doors to enjoy the sound, which somehow has a cooling effect. Some are made of metal, and others of glass.

sudare

(screens)

Made of bamboo or reeds, screens called sudare are hung in front of doors and windows to shut out the harsh summer sun while still allowing a breeze to pass. These screens are also sometimes used to partition rooms.

(cicada)

Just the word for “cicada” is enough to make the Japanese think immediately of summer. The scratchy cries of these insects make people feel hot.

mugicha

(barley tea)

This is a very common summer drink. It is made by steeping in boiling water barley which has been roasted over a hot heat. The tea is then chilled and served cold.

uchiwa

(round fans)

An uchiwa is a round, flat fan, as opposed to the folding fan (called a sensu). Uchiwa used to be commonly used in summer, but today electric fans and air conditioners have become so widespread that round fans are now rarely used.

The spread of air conditioners also means that people keep their doors and windows closed during the hot days of summer, and this in turn means that there are fewer and fewer wind bells and bamboo screens to be seen.

2. Takayama

This old city in the mountains of central Japan still has streets which are lined with homes and shops built in the Edo Period. There are many old wooden buildings which are of cultural interest, and some are open for public viewing. Considering his professional interest in architecture, it is natural that Yan wanted to visit Takayama.

A grand festival is held annually in Takayama, and the floats used in the parade (called yatai) are quite famous.

3. Souvenirs

Yan brought back chopsticks from Takayama as a souvenir for his landlord and landlady. Most Japanese do not feel right unless they bring back gifts for friends and family members even after just a short trip. The most common souvenir items are sweets or some special product of the area one visited. Lacquered chopsticks are a specialty of Takayama.

Answers & Comments

- I.
1. Omoi desu ne!
  2. Samui desu ne!
  3. Omoshiroi desu ne!
  4. Atsui desu ne!
  5. Suzushii desu ne!
  6. Subarashii desu ne!
- II.
1. Omoshirokatta desu.
(Some of you may have answered "Muzukashikatta." This would also be correct.)
  2. Oishikatta desu.
(Depending on the situation, "Takakatta desu" (It was expensive) might be the best answer!)
  3. Takakatta desu.
  4. Muzukashikatta desu.
(If the test was easy and there were a lot of interesting questions, "Omoshirokatta desu" would be an appropriate answer.)
  5. Tsumetakatta desu.
("Omoshirokatta desu" could be used here, too.)

Lesson 16

Today's Expressions

1. { A: How is it?
B: It's a little too big.
2. { A: It's expensive.
B: No, it's not so expensive.
3. This one's cheaper, isn't it?

Today's Lesson

► MINI SKIT I (At a Men's Clothing Shop)

(A customer comes out of the fitting room.)

Ten'in Ikaga desu ka?

Kyaku Chotto ôkii desu ne.

Ten'in Ara. Hontô.

Chotto ôkii desu ne.

Dewa, kochira o dôzo.

(The customer goes into the fitting room again.)

(A customer comes out of the fitting room.)

Clerk How is it?

Customer It's a bit too big.

Clerk Oh, my. You're right.

It's a little too big, isn't it?

Then please try this one.

WORDS & PHRASES

chotto (a bit) / dewa (well, then) / kochira (this one)

NOTES

① Ikaga desu ka?

This question is used to ask about a situation or to ask a person's opinion or feelings, so obviously its use is quite broad. If you say "Ikaga desu ka?" to a sick person, it will mean "How are you? Are you feeling any better?" But when the salesgirl in the Mini-Skit asked "Ikaga desu ka?" she meant "How do you like it? How about buying it?" It was an inobtrusive bit of salesmanship, as was what the salesclerk said to Yan in the electrical appliance shop: "Kore wa ikaga desu ka? Sutereo desu."

② Chotto desu ne.

The word chotto by itself means "a little," but here its meaning is closer to "a little too..."

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| { | A: Kono tēpurekôdâ ii desu ne! (This is a nice tape recorder, isn't it!) B: Ee, demo, chotto takai desu ne. (Yes, but still, it's a little too expensive.) |

▶ MINI-SKIT II (At a Jewelry Shop)

(The customer's eye falls on a certain ring.)

Kyaku Wâ, subarashii!

Ten'in Ikaga desu ka?

Kyaku Subarashii desu ne. Demo, nedan ga.

Ten'in Iie, sonnani takaku arimasen.

(The customer looks at the price tag.)

Kyaku Wâ, takai! Takai desu.

Ten'in Iie, sonnani takaku arimasen.

Kyaku Iie, takai desu.

(The customer's eye falls on a certain ring.)

Customer Oh, it's lovely!

Clerk How do you like it?

Customer It's wonderful. But the price...

Clerk It's not so expensive.

(The customer looks at the price tag.)

Customer Oh, so much! It's expensive.

Clerk No, it's not that expensive.

Customer You're wrong, it's expensive.

WORDS & PHRASES

subarashii (wonderful) / nedan (price) / sonnani -ku arimasen (not so much ~ as that)

NOTES

③ Takaku arimasen.

This is the negative form of takai desu.

To make the negative, change the -i at the end of the dictionary form of the adjective to -ku and then add arimasen. Here are some examples:

ôkii	(big)	∴ ôki i + ku arimasen	→ ôkiku arimasen
atsui	(hot)	∴ atsu i + ku arimasen	→ atsuku arimasen
muzukashii	(difficult)	∴ muzukashi i + ku arimasen	→ muzukashiku arimasen

► FROM THE SKIT ABOUT YAN (At an electrical appliance shop.)

(Yan and Tarô are buying a tape recorder.)

Yan Kore, ikura desu ka?

Ten'in Yonman gosen-en desu.

Yan Ê! Yonman gosen-en.
Kochira no hô ga yasui desu ne.

Ten'in Sochira wa sutereo ja arimasen yo.

(Yan and Tarô are buying a tape recorder.)

Yan How much is it?

Clerk It's 45,000 yen.

Yan Eh! 45,000 yen?

This one's cheaper, isn't it?

Clerk That one's not stereo.

WORDS & PHRASES

yonman gosen-en (¥45,000) / yasui (inexpensive/cheap) / sutereo (stereo)

NOTES

④ Ikura desu ka?

This is the most common way of asking the price of something. If you just touch or point at the thing you want and use one of the following sentences, you'll be able to find out its cost.

Kore, ikura desu ka?

Sore, ikura desu ka?

Are, ikura desu ka?

- ⑤ Kochira no hô ga yasui desu.

This sentence pattern is used to say that of the two items being compared, one is more ~ than the other.

(Comparing Kaihō-san's height to Mine-san's:)

Kaihō-san no hô ga takai desu.

(Kaihō-san is taller.)

(Comparing the area of Japan and Australia:)

Ôsutoraria no hô ga hiroi desu.

Exercises

I. Give negative answers to all the following questions.

1. Ôkii desu ka?
2. Tsumetai desu ka?
3. Atarashii desu ka?
4. Atsui desu ka?
5. Muzukashii desu ka?
6. Chiisai desu ka?
7. Takai desu ka?
8. Oishii desu ka?
9. Hiroi desu ka?
10. Yasui desu ka?

II. Use the pattern "... no hô ga ... desu" to make a statement telling what each of the following pictures shows.

Example:

Answer:

Nikon no hô ga takai desu.

3.

4.

(Answers at the end of the lesson.)

Writing & Pronunciation

Here is how the syllables “ga,” “gi,” “gu,” “ge,” and “go” are written in hiragana:

	が ga	ぎ gi	ぐ gu	げ ge	ご go
が	がっこう (school)			めがね (glasses)
ぎ	かぎ (key)			みぎ (right)
ぐ	まっすぐ (straight)
げ	げた (wooden clogs)			こんげつ (this month)
ご	にほんご (Japanese)			しごと (work)

When one of these syllables comes in the middle or at the end of a word, the initial [g] sound changes to [ŋ]—that is, the same sound that comes at the end of the English word king.

1. Akihabara

Located in the old “low city” section of Tokyo, Akihabara boasts several hundred electrical appliance shops within a radius of half a kilometer of the station; it is of course the largest center handling electrical goods in Japan and is known far and wide as the place to get appliances at big discounts. The shops of Akihabara are crowded all year round with people—including many foreigners—looking for bargain prices on things like audio equipment, televisions, word processors, and household appliances. Non-electrical items such as wristwatches, musical instruments, and lighters are available at cut-rate prices, too.

2. Japanese Bath

For the Japanese, a bath is not simply a means of getting clean. Taking a bath is also the best way to recover from fatigue and to relax both one's body and one's mind; for company employees the most common time to bathe is right after getting home—right before supper. A bath thus marks the dividing line between the hard work of the day and the hours of relaxation at home in the evening. In the last skit you saw Mr. Katô call to his wife for a beer after he finished his bath; and for many salaried men, especially in summer, a bath followed by beer seems to be the high point of the day.

In today's skit Yan was offered a bath at the Katôs' and readily accepted. Depending on the situation and the time of day, the Japanese often invite a guest to take a bath. To offer one's guests this relaxing experience is part of Japanese hospitality.

Words & Phrases to Memorize

têpurekôdâ (tape recorder)

sutereo (stereo)

nedan (price)

eigo (English)

kochira (this one/here)

sochira (that one/there)

Dewa,... (Well then...)

Demo,... (But still...)

takai (tall)

hiroi (broad/big) chotto (takai) (a little too (expensive))

~ no hô ga ~ (~ (is) more ~)

Sonnani (takaku) arimasen.

(It's not all that (expensive).)

Ikaga desu ka? (How is it?)

Ikura desu ka? (How much is it?)

Answers & Comments

- I. 1. Iie, ôkiku arimasen.
2. Iie, tsumetaku arimasen.
3. Iie, atarashiku arimasen.
4. Iie, atsuku arimasen.
5. Iie, muzukashiku arimasen.
6. Iie, chiisaku arimasen.
7. Iie, takaku arimasen.
8. Iie, oishiku arimasen.
9. Iie, hiroku arimasen.

(Hiroi ("broad," "big") is a new word, but you were able to make the negative form, weren't you?)

10. Iie, yasuku arimasen.

(Yasui means "inexpensive" or "cheap.")

- II.
1. Honda no hô ga chiisai desu.
  2. Nyû Yôku no hô ga samui desu.
  3. Yan-san no hô ga omoi desu.
  4. Tokyo tawâ no hô ga takai desu.

(There are many possible replies here. What was your answer?)

APPENDIX

1. sofu そふ (grandfather)	ojiisan おじいさん * (grandfather)
sobo そぼ (grandmother)	obaasan おばあさん * (grandmother)
chichi ちち (father)	otôsan おとうさん * (father)
haha はは (mother)	okaasan おかあさん * (mother)
ani あに (older brother)	oniisan おにいさん * (older brother)
ane あね (older sister)	oneesan おねえさん * (older sister)
otôto おとうと (younger brother)	otôtosan おとうとさん (younger brother)
imôto いもうと (younger sister)	imôtosan いもうとさん (younger sister)

The words in the left-hand column are used when a person talks about a member of his own family to someone outside the family. Ordinarily, "watashi no" is not used before these words, because each of them includes the meaning "my." Sofu, for example, usually means only "my grandfather," not "your grandfather" or "his grandfather."

As the ending -san shows, the words in the right-hand column are used when one mentions someone in the family of the person being spoken to, or someone in the family of a person not present. However, when talking about a third person's younger brother or sister, people sometimes say anohito no otôto/anohito no imôto without adding -san.

**These words are also used within the family, both to refer to the person in question and to address him:*

Otôsan wa nemashita yo.	(Dad has gone to sleep.)
Otôsan, tabemashô yo.	(Dad, let's eat!)

2. oji	oba	oji-san	oba-san
(uncle)	(aunt)	(uncle)	(aunt)

As in 1. before, the terms on the left and on the right differ according to whether the person spoken of is in one's own family or in someone else's family.

In Japan, ojiisan and obaasan are used to address elderly people whose name one does not know. Ojisan and obasan are used for strangers older than oneself but not yet elderly. The term okusan (see 3. below) may be used to any woman who looks old enough to be married.

3. (shujin)	kanai	goshujin	okusan
(husband)	(wife)	(husband)	(wife)
musuko	musume	musuko-san	musume-san
(son)	(daughter)	(son)	(daughter) kodomo		 okosan
(child)		(child)

When a married man speaks about his wife to someone outside the family, he refers to her as "kanai." Women used to refer to their husbands as "shujin," but since this word also means "master," more and more women are coming to find the term distasteful. At home they may address their husband by adding -san after his name, and to those outside the family they may refer to him by using the family name without -san. But in any case, husbands and wives usually begin to call each other "otôsan" and "okaasan" once a child is born.

The children call their parents "otôsan" and "okaasan," or perhaps "papa" and "mama," but never "anata."

JAPANESE LANGUAGE & CULTURE COURSES

We start the beginners and advance the advanced.

By the end of our beginners' course you should be able to hold your own in an ordinary Japanese conversation. With practical texts, backed up by entertaining video skits, "Yan and The Japanese People" developed by the Japan Foundation. We will give you the opportunity to use the spoken language, we also teach you kata-kana, hiragana, and some of the important kanji you'll need in daily life situations.

Each classroom has the latest teaching equipment: VTR, O.H.P., cassette tape recorder. And to make sure that your teacher can give you the maximum personal attention, we limit classes to about ten students. Intermediate and advanced teaching materials are based on TV and radio programs and print materials, compiled by Kenkyusha experts.

Specialized Advanced Courses

Basic Reading Comprehension
Special Pronunciation Training
Japanese TV Dramas
Japanese Language Speech Clinic

Reading "Asahi Shinbun"
Understanding News Broadcasts
An Introduction to Japanese Literature

Japanese Culture Courses

(Presented in English)

Classical Dramas: Noh & Kyogen, Japanese dance, Tea Ceremony, Flower Arrangement

"Making the Most of Tokyo"

A fun orientation for new arrivals to take the shock out of the culture.
